Corrinne Armour

Corrinne is an entertaining, provocative and inspiring Keynote Speaker, equally comfortable on a big stage or a virtual stage. Sharing transformational insights into brain science, incredible stories from her life in a jungle refugee camp on the edge of a war-zone, and underpinned by almost 15 years in and out of board rooms working with senior leaders, she brings Fearless Leadership® to life.

Corrinne is Australia's leading thinker in Fearless Leadership. Over 10 years in corporate leadership roles, 2½ years living and teaching in the jungle on the edge of a warzone, and years coaching and training senior leaders, she's gained much to share with audiences.

Corrinne gets first-hand the challenges and competing priorities and of leadership because she's been there, and her work with leaders has ripple effects across the globe. Corrinne's latest book 'Leaders Who Ask: Building Fearless Cultures by telling less and asking more' was released in late 2018. She is also co-author of 'Developing Direct Reports: Taking the Guesswork Out of Leading Leaders' and two specialist texts in human behaviour used by coaches and consultants worldwide. She is currently working on her next book, 'Fearless Leadership: The importance of real human connection'.

At home she is married to an ex guerrilla fighter and mother to two beautiful daughters, so she knows a thing or two about life balance and juggling multiple perspectives.

Through her engaging on-stage and virtual keynotes, books and leadership development programs, Corrinne challenges leaders to perform at their best. Her work with leadership teams to embrace Fearless Leadership® results in an aligned and powerful team, creating the foundation for organisational success.

Known for captivating an audience, Corrinne will connect to your delegates, making them laugh and cry. She shares lessons that help access untapped potential. She leaves people with the confidence to lead more, do more, and be more.

Fearless Leadership

Untouchable potential. Taking action in times of challenge.

There are times when everything feels too much. Urgent priorities, high uncertainty, rapid change, people looking to you for answers, danger lurks in the shadows and overwhelm threatens...

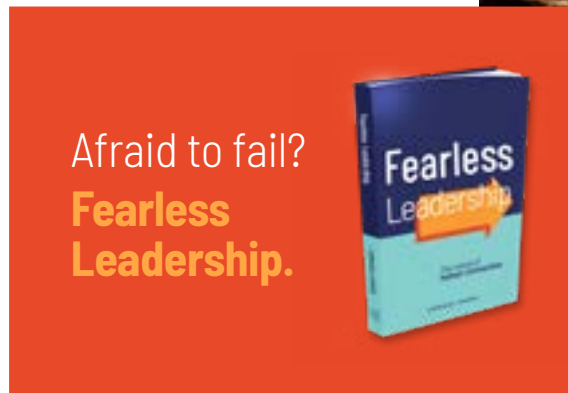

Leadership takes courage. Leadership is liberating. Leadership is a verb and not a noun! Tapping into our inner fearlessness allows us to lead ourselves and others through challenging times. Open communication provides connection that creates confidence and community. Building trust is critical to leadership.

People will be on the edge of their seats as Corrinne shares stories from her time living and working in a jungle refugee camp on the edge of a war zone. Lessons about leadership that are just as applicable in our corporate jungle as they are in a war zone. She will introduce you to inspiring leaders who have achieved amazing things through Fearless Leadership.

Are you ready?

This keynote will:

- Show it's possible to stay focused, regardless of chaos and overwhelm
- Illustrate the importance of a clear purpose to unite people and catalyse action
- Demonstrate what's needed to inspire others and lead under fire
- Challenge people to see leadership as an activity and not a role
- Provoke personal exploration and leave people inspired and ready to lead.

Ask More. Tell Less. Lead Fearlessly.

Creating Fearless Cultures and saving the world

True leadership requires a new and innovative approach. It's a tough gig! Boosting engagement, building accountability, fostering creativity are still the cornerstones of brilliant leadership, but today's rapidly changing landscape requires more.

As leaders, our desire to solve problems for our people can often drive us to help too hard. This powerful keynote inspires leaders at all levels of the business to deliver superior results by learning a few simple techniques that promote trust and initiative and enhance ingenuity. Your audience will hear incredible stories as Corrinne shares transformational insights into brain science, that will shift your 'ask/tell ratio' to connect deeply, lead fearlessly and achieve results.

This keynote will:

- Promote a NEW kind of leadership that gets the right things done
- Help leaders understand why telling is not the answer
- Move people from complacency to collective power
- Empower the audience to build curiosity and sit comfortably with uncertainty
- Leave people inspired to follow their 'why' and lead a quest to save the world

The 12 Leadership Derailers

How to avoid archetypes that sabotage careers

As leaders, we all act with the best intentions. But what happens when our inside intentions are not reflected to others by our external behaviour? It's harder to influence upwards, our teams don't respond well, our career can stall... We can be derailed very fast!

Corrinne gives the audience speed overviews of the 12 leadership derailers, drawing laughter, insight and sometimes some uncomfortable squirms as people recognise themselves and others.

Consider the leader whose intention is to support his team and maintain a high standard, and yet is seen by his line manager and his team as a micromanager. Performance suffers. Derailed!

This keynote draws on Corrinne's book 'Developing Direct Reports: Taking the guesswork out of leading leaders', and Corrinne shares immediately actionable insights to architect your impact and reach your leadership potential.

In this keynote Corrinne will show your people how to:

- Recognise 12 common leadership derailers
- Understand which derailer most limits their own leadership and how to avoid being derailed
- Create improved relationships and build greater influence
- Accelerate their career by architecting their impact
- Lead strong performance

Developing star performers is easy - get out of their way and let them shine. Developing leaders to move past leadership derailers can be much more challenging.

Human behaviour is complex. Working with other people is tricky. Connecting people with their potential requires more than excellent technical skills. It requires a leader with strong people skills. But how do you become one of these leaders?

Struggling with a micromanager? Not sure how to help a leader become more strategic? Have a leader on your team who is a people burner? Another who is conflict averse? Help is at hand!

The focus of this Masterclass (1/2 or 1 day options available) is on recognising and responding to the 12 leadership derailers in other people, whilst of course learning about yourself! This is a companion Masterclass to the keynote 'The 12 Leadership Derailers.'

Through this masterclass your people will:

- Recognise the 12 common leadership derailers
- Respond to derailers in others
- Learn the distinction between intention and behaviour, and why it matters in developing leadership
- Empower your leaders to fulfill their leadership potential
- Adopt the 'Discover – Decode – Develop' approach to lead stronger performance

The role of a leader is to develop others: boost engagement, build accountability, foster innovation, create an empowering culture... Not so easy in today's rapidly changing landscape!

Technical experts pride themselves on their knowledge, and their reward for having the answers is often a leadership position. Now, as leaders, their role is to develop and lead a team. It's time to stop telling and start asking, and that's a hard shift to make.

Leaders Who Ask is a powerful program that inspires leaders at all levels of the business to deliver superior results by learning a few simple techniques that promote initiative and enhance ingenuity.

Through this masterclass your people will:

- Learn a new kind of leadership that builds engagement and boosts productivity
- Be okay not having all the answers themselves, and harness the collective wisdom of the team
- Run effective meetings that engage
- Have outcome focused, targeted and empathetic performance conversations
- Ask more and tell less

Testimonials

90 people. 80 locations. 25 minutes. Immense impact from an online keynote. Corrinne connected to what people were thinking and not talking about, leaving them feeling energised and uplifted.
